

Old World Elegance And The Best Italian Food In The Northeast

When it comes to Italian food, nothing compares to the Old World elegance you can find in the Northeast. Whether you're a self-proclaimed foodie or simply someone who enjoys a good meal, the Northeast region offers a variety of Italian restaurants that will transport you to the streets of Rome or the canals of Venice.

One of the reasons why Italian food in the Northeast is so exceptional is the rich history and influence of Italian immigrants who first brought their culinary traditions to this part of the world. These immigrants brought with them not only their recipes but also a sense of pride and passion for their cuisine.

Step into any Italian restaurant in the Northeast, and you'll immediately be greeted by a warm and inviting atmosphere. From the charming decor to the classic Italian music playing softly in the background, every detail is carefully curated to create an authentic dining experience.

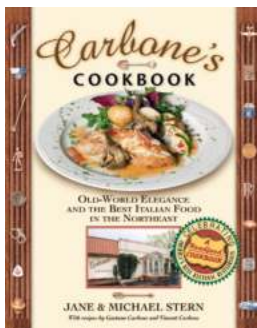

But what truly sets the Italian food in the Northeast apart is the quality of the ingredients used. Fresh, locally sourced produce, combined with imported Italian cheeses, oils, and spices, elevates every dish to new heights. Whether it's a simple Margherita pizza or a hearty plate of pasta, you can taste the difference in every bite.

The Northeast is also known for its selection of regional Italian dishes. From the beloved New York-style pizza to the iconic Philly cheesesteak, each city has its own unique spin on Italian cuisine. You can indulge in a wide range of options, from the classic dishes of Southern Italy to the innovative creations of modern Italian-American cuisine.

Not only is the food exceptional, but the service in Italian restaurants in the Northeast is unparalleled. From the moment you step through the door, you'll be treated like family. The staff takes pride in delivering impeccable service and ensuring that every guest has a memorable dining experience.

Whether you're a fan of traditional Italian dishes or eager to try something new, the Northeast has it all. From rustic trattorias to upscale fine dining establishments, there's a restaurant to suit every taste and occasion.

So, if you're in the mood for a truly remarkable meal, filled with Old World elegance and the best Italian food, look no further than the Northeast. Just one visit to any of the Italian restaurants in this region will transport you to Italy's charming streets and leave you craving more.

While Italian restaurants are popular throughout the United States, New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut make up the part of the country most associated with the great ones. And one of the best is Carbone's in Hartford, Connecticut.

Founded sixty-five years ago, Carbone's is Hartford's oldest and best-reviewed restaurant. The founder, Charlie Carbone, learned some of his best recipes from New York restaurants by going into their kitchens, posing as a health inspector, and watching their chefs. In the 1960's, chef Gaetano Carbone created a weekly special and many of these recipes by "the master" are in the book. Vinnie Carbone continues the family tradition and has a unique way of catering special events.

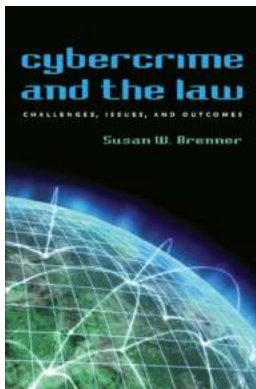

Carbone's Cookbook not only contains the creative recipes of Executive Chef Paul Rafella and Michael McDowell, but also takes you inside a real family-owned Italian restaurant. Well into its second half-century, Carbone's is famous for its Veal All Bergamo, Roasted Mushrooms, Scampi Popalardo, Filetto do Manzo and Salmone Alla Senape.

In keeping with the tradition of celebrating the finest regional restaurants in the United States, Carbone's is the sixth restaurant in the United States to be chosen to be a Roadfood cookbook by authors Jane and Michael Stern.
